A LIVING MURAL OF BHS

An artist stands in the halls of BHS. After nine months he has completed a mural to add to our collection. But this one is different from the others—it is a living mural of our 1962 school year.

At first the mural looked vague and misty, but as the weeks passed with interest and fun, the picture began to take shape.

The students groaned when the painter began with the faculty. But they soon realized that the faculty stood for something much more important than fun—for education.

The 1,325 students add variety and color to the painting. The soft shades of the shy ones and the strong tones of the bold blend together to form our student body.

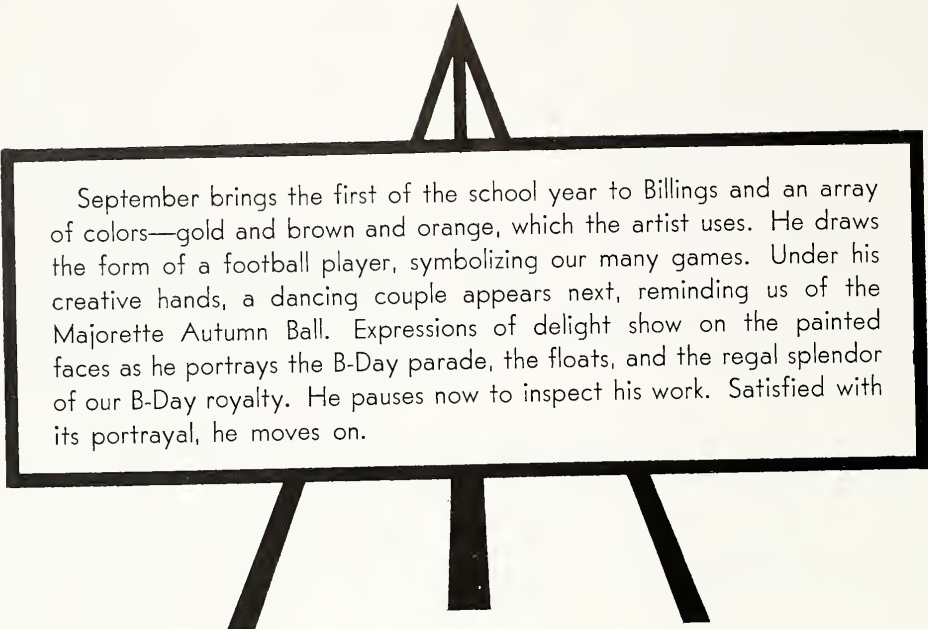

The organizations and their activities add bright, gay colors to our mural. Behind all the fun and laughter were hours of hard work by the club members.

Sports add a bright spark to the picture. With the desire to win, our artist mixed excitement and good sportsmanship.

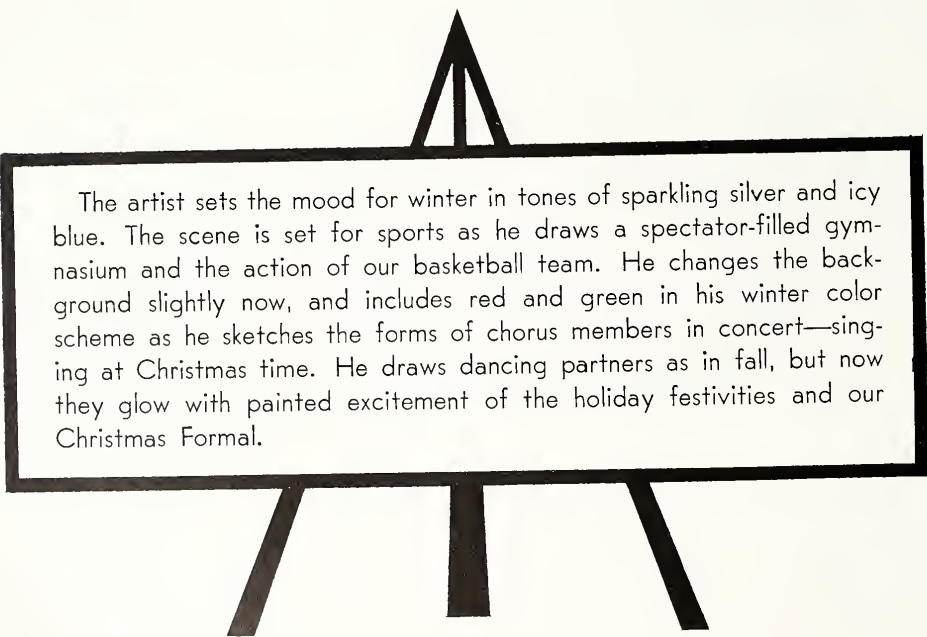

The painter, filled with a sense of accomplishment, presents wonderful moments at BHS in his mural—the 1962 Kyote.

September brings the first of the school year to Billings and an array of colors—gold and brown and orange, which the artist uses. He draws the form of a football player, symbolizing our many games. Under his creative hands, a dancing couple appears next, reminding us of the Majorette Autumn Ball. Expressions of delight show on the painted faces as he portrays the B-Day parade, the floats, and the regal splendor of our B-Day royalty. He pauses now to inspect his work. Satisfied with its portrayal, he moves on.

The artist sets the mood for winter in tones of sparkling silver and icy blue. The scene is set for sports as he draws a spectator-filled gymnasium and the action of our basketball team. He changes the background slightly now, and includes red and green in his winter color scheme as he sketches the forms of chorus members in concert—singing at Christmas time. He draws dancing partners as in fall, but now they glow with painted excitement of the holiday festivities and our Christmas Formal.

BHS MURAL OF EVENTS

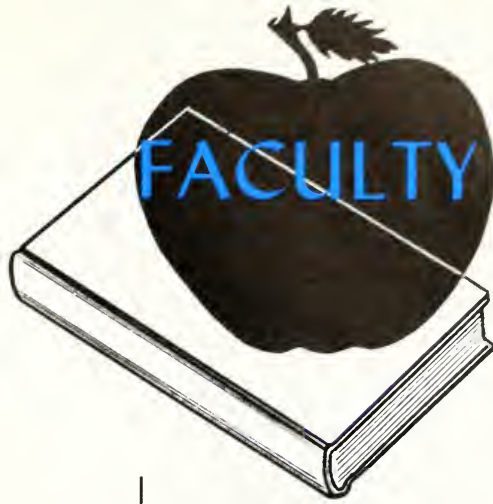

The artist focuses on spring as he cleans his brush and begins in shades of pink, green, and yellow. He dips his brush into the paint to create a glorious climax to the sports' season with track, wrestling, and the crowning of Miss Broncette. More dancers take shape as he adds the final touches to the breathless atmosphere of the Prom. Excitement runs high as our artist portrays the end of school and the rush of graduation.

Teachers appear under the talented hands of our artist. Although they sometimes seem cross and unfair, their kind eyes show understanding.

In their hands they hold the future, for they have the important task of molding young generations.

Mr. Borberg—Principal of BHS

THE MEN WHO GUIDE US

Since 1937, Mr. Merle C. Gallagher has ably served as Superintendent of School District Number Two. He has seen the Billings school system grow and flourish and many new schools built.

Mr. Gallagher works closely with the Board of Trustees. Of the board's many duties, initiating and directing policies are the most important. The board also sanctions, endorses, and enforces policies recommended by the superintendent.

Mr. M. C. Gallagher—
Superintendent of Schools

As assistant principal of BHS, Mr. Earl L. Collins has many jobs and nearly as much responsibility as the principal. His duties include taking charge of attendance and appointing teacher chaperones for school activities.

Prior to his appointment as vice principal Mr. Collins served for twelve years as Dean of Boys here at Billings Senior High.

Mr. Earl Collins—
Vice Principal

Busy Men, Busy School, Busy Day

For ten years Mr. Charles E. Borberg, as the administrative head of BHS, has been directly responsible for the operation of our school.

In a typical day Mr. Borberg's problems range from supervising the functioning of the school, to keeping the calendar for all school events, to filling out reports and forms, to a friendly chat with two AFS exchange students.

"East of West 10th,"

... in a Turkish bath?"

"... under the G's"

Each student coming into BHS has his problems. Mrs. Sue Hutton, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Gus Nash, Dean of Boys, work daily with students: listening to problems, making suggestions, measuring out discipline or praise, and seeing that BHS'ers get the solid background in subjects which will help them after graduation.

Deans discuss daily disruptions.

Problems and Solutions

Youngsters don't come in standard sizes.

The main objective in all educational guidance is to help students make use of all of their gifts and talents.

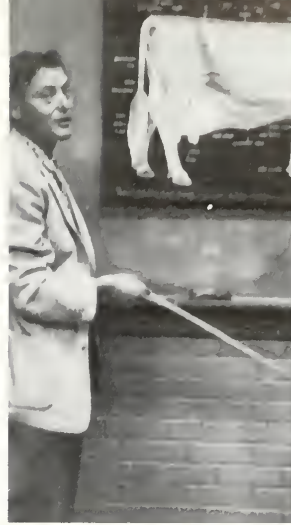

Providing educational and vocational guidance for students while assisting them with registration, programing and scheduling is a full time job for counselors, Mr. John Bills and Mrs. Marietta Peters.

KYOTE

Our artist, with the help of the Annual Staff, focuses his attention on the Kyote Personalities of 1962. These are the most outstanding people of the various activities of Billings Senior High School.

He begins with BHS's most versatile girl and boy. By using shades of talent, strokes of intelligence, and touching up with personality, he comes up with Charles Brastrup and Pat Clark. Charles is outstanding in speech and acting. He was an AFS Semifinalist, Boys' Stater, and president of Billings Key Club. Pat excels in sports and public speaking. She went to New Zealand for AFS, was a member of Girls' State, and president of the Pep Club.

Now the artist turns to Peggy Travis, who was chosen for the DAR award by the senior girls. Using leadership, service, and patriotism, he pictures her perfectly.

PERSONALITIES

By Dorothy Heidema

Mixing together soft tones and smooth blends of talent, the artist now pictures the Musician, Karen Story, and Dramatist, Jock Scowcroft. He reminds us of Karen's talents on the violin and piano. She is first chair in the school orchestra, belongs to Billings Symphony, and has gone to the State Music Camp for the last three years. We also remember Jock in his starring roles in "Showboat," "Oklahoma," and "The King and I," as well as many other performances in the field of drama.

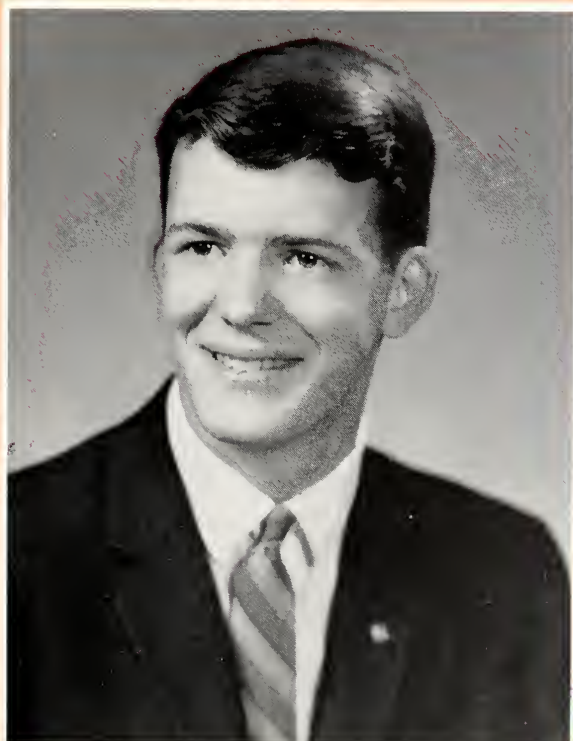

Last but not least the artist paints the rugged athlete, Charlie Trott. In football he was the captain of the Broncos, and was on the second, all-state team. He has also done an outstanding job in wrestling.

The artist lays down his brush and looks with satisfaction upon his finished mural of Kyote Personalities.

392 SENIORS FORM CORE OF STUDENT BODY

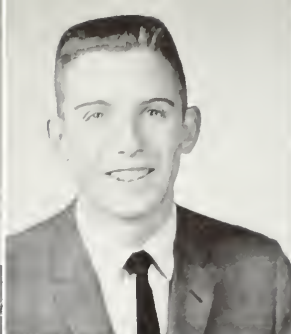

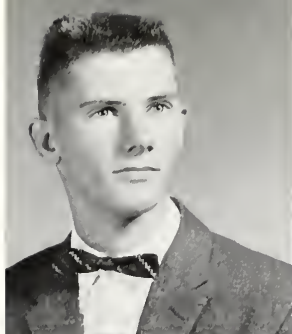

Zeigler, Losee, Swenson represent seniors.

The senior class is the backbone of Student Council. Members of the senior class—President Mike Alterowitz, Vice President Peggy Travis, and Secretary Cynthia Allison—hold Council offices. Standing committees, with the exception of Public Relations, are headed by seniors.

Cynthia Allison went to the Student Council summer camp in Colorado last summer to get an idea of what other Councils do. Dave Wendte served as President of the Montana Association of Student Councils.

Student Council representatives from the Junior class are chosen by their class to represent them in the council.
Junior Representatives:

FIRST ROW: Sec., Pierce; Pres., Coatsworth; Veep, Byars;
SECOND ROW: Hopkins, Radford, Shaller, Zink.
THIRD ROW: Berin, Ford, Dailey, Packwood, Reno.
FOURTH ROW: Wheeler, Price, Hutton, Beaton.

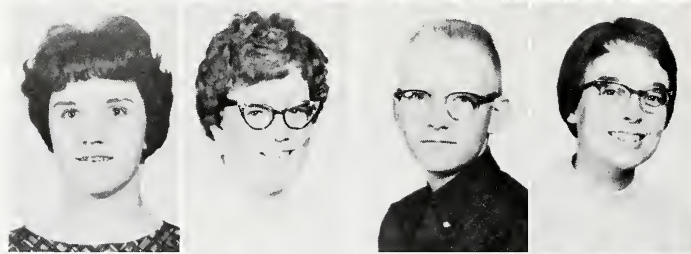

The Junior class officers organize the class and keep it functioning well. Officers assure their classmates that they will be represented in BHS activities. The officers learn the importance of the student body's working together and qualities of leadership needed for an efficient student body government.

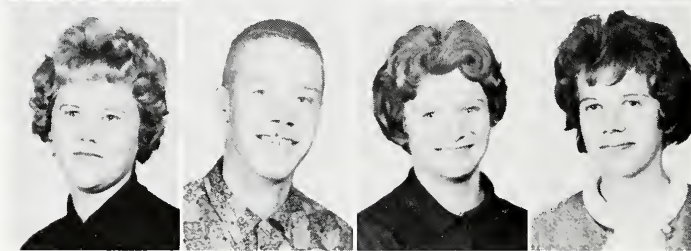

The Junior officers plan and sponsor the Junior-Senior Prom.

SECOND ROW: Popelka, Wilder, Brickley, Kasper, Halland.

THIRD ROW: Williams, Art, Bancroft, Jacobson, McDonald.

FOURTH ROW: Patterson, Garlick, Anderson, Cassidy.

Wallace Heads Sophomore Class

Class officers, elected by the students, take the responsibility of leading their classmates through the school year and running their class efficiently.

Each spring the sophomore officers are responsible for organizing and sponsoring the Awards Assembly that is held in Daylis Stadium for graduating seniors. They also assist the Student Council by serving on committees.

Our artist portrays the vigorous energy, school spirit, and good times BHS students have as they participate in their clubs and activities.

Right up to final exams, students are kept busy: attending club meetings, games, and dances or doing last minute homework.

Maxine Bernhart typifies a BHS student doing research.

BHS: Youth, Studies, Fun

School life. This means different things to many people. To the teacher its means hours of correcting papers, and figuring grades for report cards. To the student it means homework every night, club meetings, chorus practices, band workouts, play rehearsals, and sports. To the parents it means worry about their teenagers at the after-game dances, and the date they might be with.

Some students go to the library to meet their girlfriends, and to make a date for the weekend; some go to finish the studies they forgot to do the night before; some go to read and to do research.

Teachers do more than give assignments. Extra help and advice are given to those who need it.

The halls at BHS are the busiest places in the school for five minutes out of ever hour. It is a time to discuss the last class, boyfriends, the next class, and teachers.

"Mr. Nesbit, I'm confused."

Between classes, BHS halls buzz with activity and confusion.

Grant Morrison shows his skill in shop.

Duane Mesnard plays with verve.

BHS Classes: Shop, Music, Journalism

Jeffers, Losee, and Card work diligently.

"I can do anything better than you can, I can do anything better than you. No you can't! Yes I can!" So goes life at BHS, where each student has an ability in one special thing better than any other. Each student, according to his abilities and his inclination, joins a club where he can actively participate in school life.

Whether they are singers, journalists, mechanics, chemists, actors, businessmen, or athletes, these students are the future components of our society. In these BHS classes, students train for the future.

Linda Eames reviews a book for her English class.

Shirley Collins reports to Civics Class.

BHS Classes: Pullups and Humanities

Where every boy hopes to be assigned . . . girls' gym.

A study in concentration . . . Art class.

TESTS! TESTS! TESTS! Even students in the Nurse's office take tests. Hearing tests and eye tests are given to all incoming BHS students. The Nurse's Office also co-ordinates the polio tests and sets up the TB tests.

Smish!

Oops! I hit the wrong key. If only my fingers would get co-ordinated—that makes four mistakes I've made on my typing tests already.

All students taking tests are glad when they are over at last—only to worry about their grades.

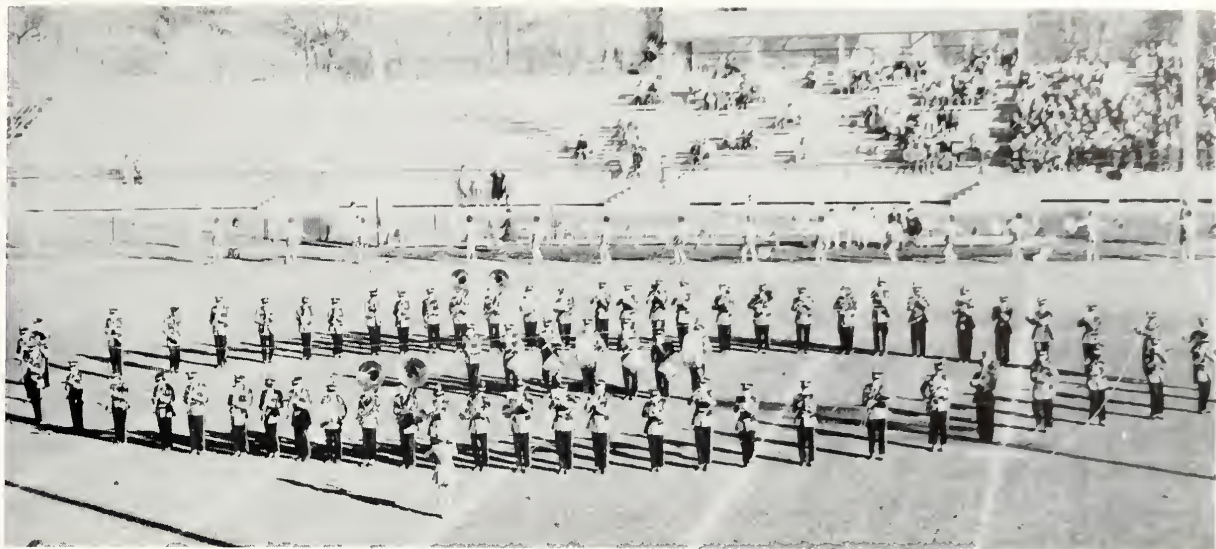

It is important for each student to be able to hear everything well in class.

BHS Classes: Hearing and Typing Tests

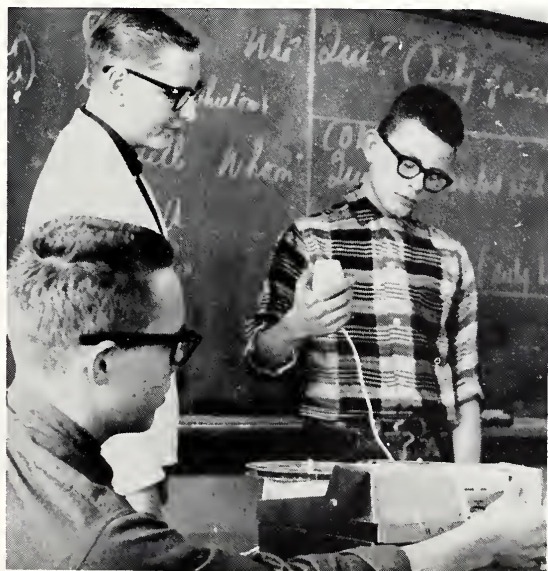

It takes long hours of hard practice to become an efficient typist.

The majorettes and band perform during the Helena-BHS football game.

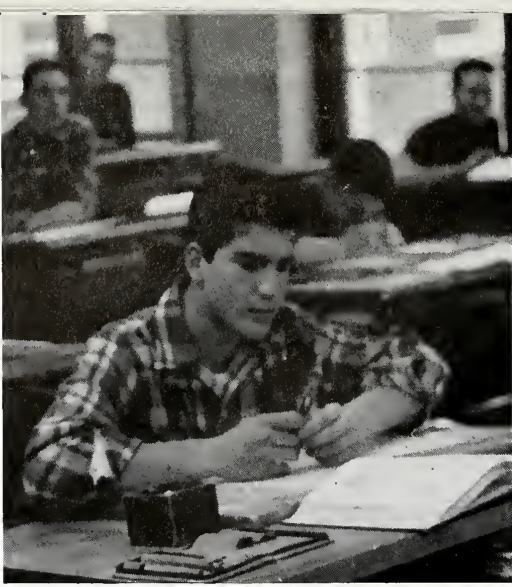

BHS Classes: Wow and S'il Vous Plait

Several tape recordings assist French students in proper pronunciation.

Wow! This comes from students who hear our pep band play favorites like "Peter Gunn" and "In The Mood." The pep band plays for assemblies, and, of course, for games. During football season, they make formations on the field for halftimes.

In language classes, students practice speaking by recording dialogues which help them get the correct pronunciation of a word and learn to speak a second language fluently.

Gee, this is tough!

Is he going to turn or am I?

BHS Classes: Science and Experiments

Rita Lewis and Mark Hungerford study tension in Physics lab.

4 legs, a croak, 2 eyes and a body equals 1 frog.

BHS Classes: Mammals and Test Tubes

Curtis Alm's answer is right on the money.

All BHSers are familiar with assignments.

"We have an experiment tomorrow . . ." brings groans from students taking Physics.

"Learn the classes of Insects . . ." brings sighs for students taking Biology.

"Use two scoops of NaCl instead of three when you get to the fourth step . . ." brings mixed reactions from students taking Chemistry.

"Stop!" brings surprise to a student taking drivers' training — then relief when he sees he almost ran a stop sign.

The National School assembly on November 2-3, "Tops and Gyroscopes," was presented by Mr. Edwin McLean, who showed the finest and most expensive collection of tops ever used in a program of its type. Mr. McLean explained why the gyroscope, a toy until recent years, is so important today.

Vern Bender, BHS student, assists Mr. McLean.

Thompson Lectures on Robert Frost

Dr. Laurence R. Thompson, an authority on Robert Frost, spoke to third period English classes on October 30. Dr. Thompson has been collecting information for a biography of Frost. He reviewed two of Frost's poems and gave interesting facts about Robert Frost's life.

Vern finds gyroscope in suitcase hard to handle.

Hail! Hail! The gang's all here!

Pep assemblies are important at BHS. The cheerleaders are there to lead "Hail" with the Pep Club assisting the cheerleaders. The majorettes provide a skit of the Roaring Twenties and precision drills. For variety, members of the music department take part in the assemblies.

Following tradition, the coaches and teams are introduced at the assemblies preceding the first game of each season.

Have You Got That Spirit?

Janet Tirrell—Smile pretty!

Majorettes add sparkle to pep assemblies in colorful uniforms.

Seconds after the blast this helicopter came to rescue a "victim."

Head for Your Shelters

An atomic blast would look like this according to Civil Defense authorities.

Major Glen F. Gibson, head of the C.D.O. in Billings, helped acquaint students with the Civil Defense Program for our area.

Men from the police and fire departments modeled suits which would provide protection for the wearer during a nuclear attack.

They also gave a demonstration of the results of an atomic explosion. A blast of heat was felt by the students in the stands and clouds of smoke rose from the "bomb" on the field. Soon a helicopter circled and landed, showing how injured persons would be removed to nearby hospitals.

Invert and divide by a pony tail.

What in the world is that dog doing in school? Does that girl only have one sock on? Boy does this lunch look good; I'm so hungry! These are the thoughts that once raced through our minds.

The next three pages are filled with these memories. While paging through them we are reminded of one of the many typical days we spent at Billings Senior High School.

Memories Are Made of This

Fight 'em, beat 'em, go get 'em . . .

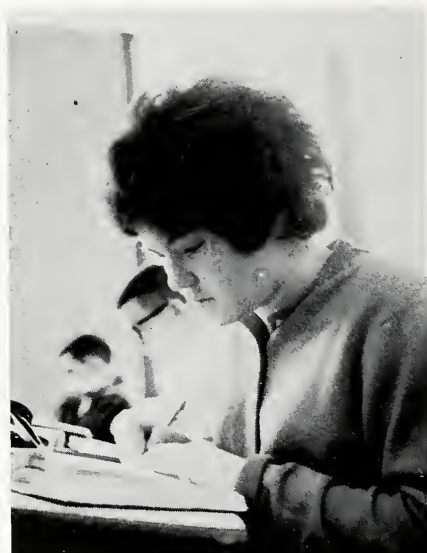

Lunch time at last!

Mom, I forgot my theme, would you please bring it?

Jane Besso received a decorated sock at a Pep assembly for having school spirit.

I just can't concentrate.

What shall I do with this darn dog?

Oh no, you're kidding!

Tim is in my next class.

I lost my place.

Dave Rye President of BKC

Losee and Rye discuss the football concessions with Mr. Eliason, sponsor.

Billings Key Club works to help not only our school, but also other clubs. Members of BKC controlled crowds at the Jaycee's Sports Car Hill Climb and the Soap Box Derby. They helped their sponsor, Kiwanis Club, in several events this year—selling apples, for one.

The Board tries to choose new members with care. It wants students who will keep the club an active part of BHS.

Policemen warm up with BKC coffee at a football game.

BKC Runs Coat Check, Builds BHS Lecterns

Billings Key Club has had various projects the past year. On the artistic side, members painted the "B" in front of the school and an orange bronc on each side of it, they decorated goal posts for all home football games, built the second-place float for the B-day parade, and painted "X's" on the band room floor in order to position the band students every morning. The members hosted their parents at their Annual Parents' Night Banquet December 5th at the Starlight Terrace.

Club members built mahogany stained lecterns for the entire Social Studies Department, sponsored a free coat check at the home basketball games, placed a clip for attendance sheets on the door of every classroom, and sold concessions at all Bronc football games.

Key Clubbers host parents at Annual Parents' Night Banquet.

The Kyote Goes to a Pregame Supper

Leone Lillis, Nancie Williams, and Carol Hadley wait and watch anxiously as Mimi Chappe loads a plate.

After careful consideration Dina Powell and Judy Llewellyn decide to pass up the garlic bread.

Everything is ready and the hostesses smile as they await their hungry guests.

"Hi! This is Jane Besso. Would you like to come to a pregame supper Friday at 5:30?"

When the forty guests arrived, they were greeted by the hostesses, Wendy Barcroft, Mary Dana, Jane Besso, and Dorothy Heidema.

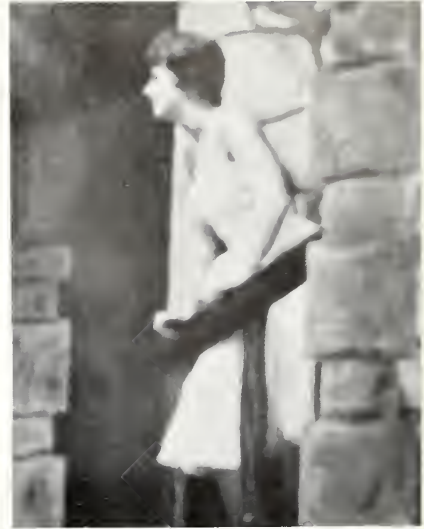

Everyone was excited and looking forward to the game. Their eagerness only increased their appetites and everyone went back for seconds. When all the food was gone and thank-you's said, the girls piled into cars for the game.

Romanoff

Romanoff—Mark Hungerford

and

Juliet—Emily Schlaht

Juliet

The General—Jock Scowcroft

General: "No, I'm afraid I don't know that either. I'm Rally of Unionists Separatist Extreems . . . any one . . . how strange . . . it's the party in power at present."

Romanoff and Juliet, a three act comedy, written by Peter Ustinov, was presented by the BHS Dramatic Department. The National Thespian director commented it was superior work for a high school cast.

. . . And they all lived happily ever after.

Dramatics Club is the "little sister" of Thespians. Members of Dramatics act, apply make-up, paint scenery, make costumes, or collect props to accumulate the hundred hours necessary for membership in Thespians.

Club members have priority over "outsiders" in tryouts for forthcoming plays.

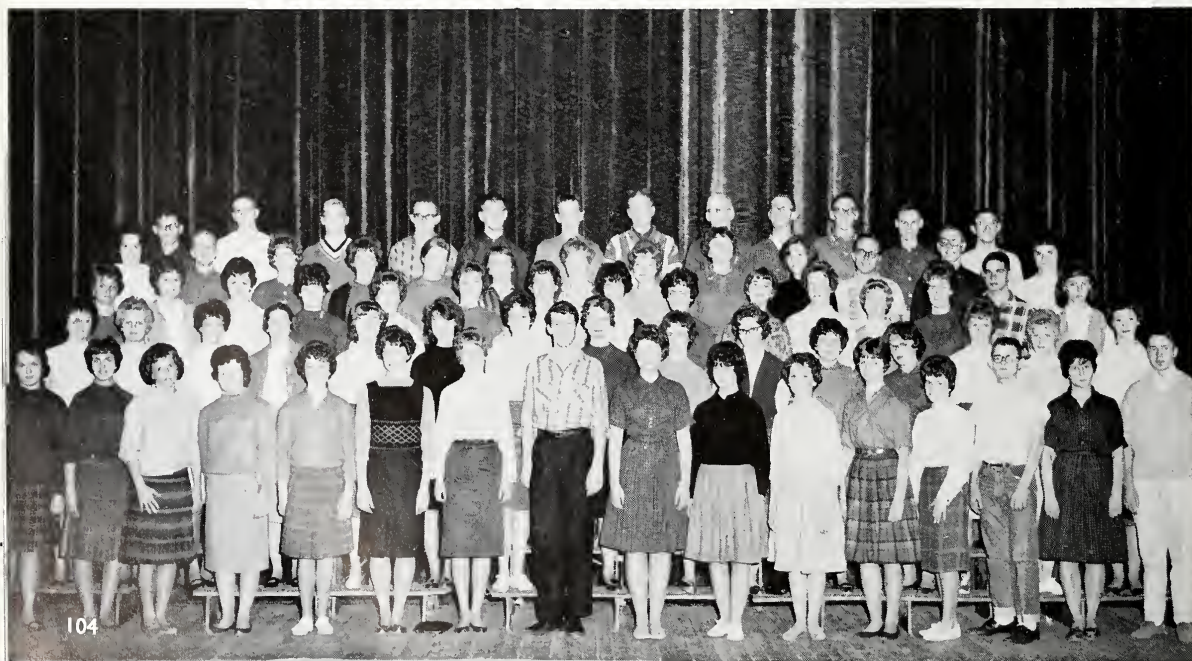

The club is sponsored by Miss Clara Strutz and advised by Mr. Lloyd Mickelson.

Privates Armstrong, Anderson salute Scowcroft.

Elphadonk Conducts School Elections

Campaign speech comes from hanging candidate.

Elphadonk, sponsored by Mr. Ramsett, is the social studies club of BHS. Special guests speak on topics ranging from school activities to community, state and national affairs.

Each year they conduct the elections of class and student council officers and sponsor a well-known movie. Part of the proceeds from the movie go to the AFS program.

Z Club Sells Spudnuts to Support AFS

Z Club's Egyptian pyramid float "Goes International."

Z, newest of the service clubs, was organized in 1956. It is sponsored by the Zonta Club of Billings and is under the direction of Mrs. Marietta Peters.

The American Field Service gains support from Z's AFS Follies. This is a show consisting of talents of BHS students. Also Z Clubbers are seen selling spudnuts for AFS every other Thursday during sixth period.

Assisting the Billings Zonta Club during the Annual Girls Career Conference, stuffing a float for B-Day, putting on assemblies and dances, and decorating goal posts comprise other Z Club activities.

The Annual Twirp Dance is put on by Z. It is unique because the girls invite the boys and pay for all expenses. The climax of the night comes with the naming of Mr. Preferred.

BHS'ers All Face Tests, Tests, Tests

Although some colleges do not require entrance examinations, they are becoming more important. Many schools require the College Board Entrance Examinations (SAT-ACT) and others require or recommend the American College Testing (ACT) Test.

Eight times during the school year students are given the opportunity to take these tests. Scores from both testing programs are made part of the school's permanent records,

In October of each school year the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) is available to all Juniors who plan to attend college. Those who do well on PSAT are urged to take the National Merit Scholastic Qualification Test which is the initial screening for the National Merit Scholarships. Of the 67 students who took this qualification test, 5 were finalists and 7 were awarded letters of recommendation.

Ilona Grill—exchange student from Austria

Last year six AFS semi-finalists were chosen, four of whom have taken part in the program.

Pat Clark spent January—August in Christchurch, New Zealand. She attended a girls' school, wore a uniform, rode a bike, and took part in all sports she had time for.

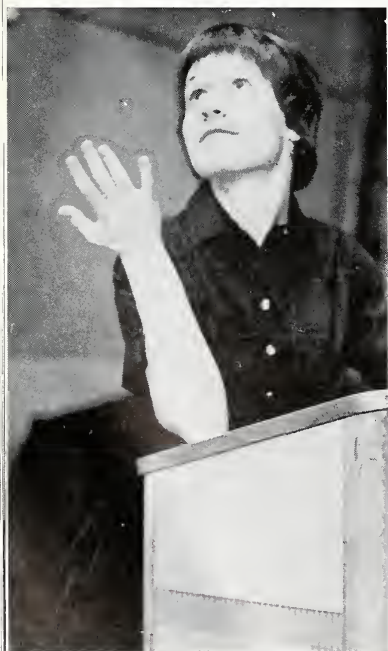

Susan Hutton spent her senior year at a co-ed school in Jarvenpaa, Finland. Before she left she spent many hours trying to learn the Finnish language.

Kathy Keene spent her summer with a family in Ankara, Turkey. They traveled to many of the scenic and historic spots of the country.

This year Ilona Grill came to BHS from Austria as Janet Zeigler's guest. She spent the year at our school attending all the games, dances, and other school activities.

The American Field Service plays an important part at BHS where all juniors can take part. Suggestions for applicants are offered by the faculty and questionnaires are given to these students. The questionnaires are studied and the best qualified are interviewed by a committee, headed by Mr. Borberg. This year four semi-finalists were chosen, whose names and qualifications were sent to the National committee, who tried to fit them into foreign families.

Z Club sponsors spudnut sales once every two weeks during sixth period to raise money for AFS.

The AFS Follies are sponsored annually by Z Club. Any student may try out for the talent show and a faculty committee chooses the best. This year the theme was Magic with Ray Cosman, M.C.

Wendy Barcroft, her own best customer, supports A.F.S.

Selling programs at football and basketball games, giving to the needy, caroling at Christmas, and at club meetings on Tuesday mornings—are various places you see Yellowstone Key Clubbers.

The service club, under the direction of Mr. Sherman Hubley, worked with the school and community to aid many causes. The club members ushered at the MEA teacher's convention for a community project. For school projects, they printed the BHS literary magazine; cleaned the parking lot and parked cars at the West High game; bought trophies for an Invitational wrestling tournament, and sponsored a mural.

Yellowstone Key Club Serves School

The annual Key Club water fight is held during National Fire Prevention Week.

Following the B-Day theme, "BHS Goes International," Yellowstone Key Club presented their float in the homecoming parade. The float displayed the U.N. Building, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, and the Sphinx. Club president, Mike Anderson, and Vice President, Bruce Haughey, proposed the plan.

"Popcorn! Fresh, hot popcorn!" cry the Junior Optimists while they sell at the BHS basketball games.

Junior Optimists, under the sponsorship of Mr. Don Glynn, is a boys' service club dedicated to the promotion of better citizenship in school.

In addition to their popcorn concession, they gather gifts at Christmas for the underprivileged children of Billings. In the winter the club members install and maintain the barrels of sand placed at entrances of the parking lot to prevent cars skidding on the icy driveways.

Ken Johnson and Don Wilson wait hungrily as Stuart Pirrie sacks their popcorn.

King and I Displays Talent From BHS

"Billings Senior High drama and music departments present The King and I. Performances at 8:00 on February 28, March 2, 3, 5, and 6. Get your tickets now for only $1.25." All over town, people heard these announcements.

When the play was over, one could hear people singing "Something Wonderful," whistling "Whenever I Feel Afraid," making up "Oh, Buddha" chants, and discussing the play. Because of the unusual hair colors and styles, it received more than its share of free publicity. According to the people who saw it, however, the play deserved all the recognition it got—the acting and singing were excellent, costumes were beautiful, and the play itself ranked as one of the best of Senior High musicals.

Anna and King begin mad whirl.

Stage crew workers don't seem to know exactly what to do.

Before a performance, Jock Scowcroft is transformed into the King.

Polished Performance Means Hard Work

Wheeler and Blye rehearse their scene.

Approximately 150 students participated in costume designing, make-up, publicity, ticket sales, properties, scenery, or lighting.

The production took hours of work and a large budget. One of Anna's dresses required 15 yards of material. Many of the costumes were silk—the least expensive possible. If the costumes were scanty, any skin that showed had to be covered with liquid make-up. Most cast members had to take at least two baths after each dress rehearsal or performance to clean off make-up. All the members of the cast had to dye their hair except Jock Scowcroft, the King, who had none left to dye.

In spite of lack of sleep, irregular meals, incomplete homework, and cleaning bills, those who worked on The King and I felt it was well worth the effort.

Mississippians entertain students of Billings Senior High in National School Assembly.

Assemblies Entertain, Inform BHS'ers

Deines, Kinne, and Pett put on wrestling exhibition for pep assembly.

Students at Billings Senior High take time out from everyday class routine to attend and take part in either pep or National School Assemblies.

Pep assemblies help boost school spirit, encourage students to attend games, to support their team and to take part in school activities.

This year three National School Assemblies have been presented to Billings Senior High. These assemblies gave a variety that is both entertaining and educational.

"Which of These Brings You to School?"

Approximately 165 of the 1325 students at BHS ride school buses. The distances vary from fourteen miles east of Billings to the 400 block on Central Avenue.

Most students, however, drive or get a ride to school. It is difficult to estimate how many students park their cars along the side streets, although about 150 park in the student parking lot.

Students See Miss Broncette Crowned

Students of Billings Senior High gathered in the Gym, after the Bronc-Butte Central basketball game for the Miss Broncette dance, sponsored by Kinetic.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Patty Barnett as Miss Broncette.

Runners-up were: Nancy Williams, Emily Schlaht, Leone Lillis, and Mary Dana.

Students danced everything from the twist to the waltz, with music by the Downbeats.

Thespians Sponsor

Mr. Lloyd D. Mickelson, Thespian sponsor, is also Montana State director. Under Mr. Mickelson's direction, Thespians promote dramatics on the highschool level.

Members not only act, but also work back stage constructing sets, applying make-up, sewing costumes, and putting the finishing touches on their programs.

This year members participated in Romanoff and Juliet, the King and I and other school events of a dramatical nature.

Thespians also produced Project X (on the following page) and gave an Alumni Tea.

Thespians—First Row: Pres. J. Weyer, Treas. Dana, Hist. Smalley, V. Pres. Packwood, Sec. Shannon, Lillis, Sponsor Mickelson. Second Row: L. Project X Annually

"Joe sent me," admitted couples to Thespians' fourth annual Project X. This year Project X was staged in the cafeteria. The cafeteria was transformed into a 1926 speakeasy called "Rozzy's Place." Rozzy Mullen acted as hostess.

The theme was carried out with a Roaring Twenties Review; a medley of songs, dances, and fads of the Twenties, plus a poker game and Thespians dressed in flappers and knickerbockers. Students dressed as the Keystone cops added just the right touch of humor. Other entertainment included songs sung by the "Our Boys Quartet," and a community sing.

The evening ended at 11:30 p.m. to the roar of airplanes, recorded roars that is. Couples filed out, got in cars, and went home knowing they can now Charleston.

70 Members Comprise Smallest BHS Band

The BHS band, under the direction of Mr. Stan Richards, is the smallest in fifteen years, only 70 members. There are thirteen seniors in the band and approximately 25 sophomores and 25 juniors.

Our band performed with West High to present a pre-game and half-time program for the Bronco-Bear football game.

During the band practices for B-Day, the drum section came up with a new cadence to add variety.

The band presented the first concert in March.

They featured such numbers as "Drummin' Thro' the Rye" by Acton Ostling; "Highlights from Camelot" by Frederick Lowe and Alan Lerner; "Misty" by Johnny Burke and Erroll Garner; "Birthday Bouquet" by Harold Walters; "Rush Street Tarantella" by Paul Yoder; and "Cha Cha for Band" by Glenn Ossler.

David Rye was chosen this year to act in Mr. Richards' absence and during the last half of the basketball games, as student director.

Halls Play an Important Part at BHS

The halls of BHS play an important part in the school-day of every BHS'er. Passing to classes, students meet friends, exchange the latest gossip, make plans for the weekend or discuss their latest social strategy.

As the sales drive in the fall did not supply enough money to pay for the Kyote, the annual staff must look to advertising as another source of revenue.

Each member must sell as many ads as he has time to; this brings on plenty of competition. The ones who sell 13 ads or more are automatically members of the 13 Club.

This club, which is an honorary group with no activities, is supervised by Mr. Miller.

13 Club—Seated: Gilbert, Heidema. Standing: P. Barnett, Sherry Britton.

Outstanding Journalists Are Honored

Quill and Scroll—Seated: J. Buck, Heidema, Hutton, Pres. Dana, Gilbert, Jeffers. Standing: Packwood, Hendricks, G. Card, Mowery, Rye, K. Keup, Barnes.

Quill and Scroll, a national honorary society, under the sponsorship of Mr. Harsch and Mr. Miller, is strictly for junior and senior journalism students who meet the following qualifications:

Must have done something outstanding in journalism, have approval of their journalism teacher, must be in the upper 1/3 of his class, and must be able to pay the Quill and Scroll dues.

Each spring, junior members plan a picnic for the senior journalism students.

Senior Counselors, sponsored by the Deans, help to orientate the sophomores into the BHS routine.

Each senior is a leader in one particular branch of school activities. The membership represents a cross-section of school life.

Boy-girl teams are assigned to each Sophomore room. These Counselors provide invaluable service to the school, helping the Sophomores.

ONCE UPON A TIME . . .

by Karen Johnson

There was a basketball game. It's over now. Most of the people are leaving—parents, students, younger brothers and sisters.

But the night is still young. There is plenty of time for merry-making—a night in Casablanca, a quick coke in Paris, a hand of Old Maid in Las Vegas, or the BHS aftergame dance.

It begins inauspiciously. Boys stand stiffly on one side of the floor; girls wait self-consciously on the other. It rather reminds one of the five minutes between roll-taking and the promenade to find out what partner you got this time in the dancing in gym class.

Soon, though, people begin to relax. They realize they know some of the kids on the other side of the room. The two populations start to merge into a flowing mass of laughing, talking, dancing couples. Pairs meet, pause to talk, change partners, and head off again in different directions. As the evening progresses . . .

A few couples meet, pause to talk, and keep talking. They migrate towards the sides, out of traffic, to join others who prefer conversation to dancing.

Another type of segregation results—those die-hards, who will dance to the end, filling the center of the room, and those moderates, who would rather quit while they're ahead, cluttering up the sidelines. Soon both factions will unite again in a common bond when . . .

The dance ends. All head for the door now, then scatter towards their various destinations. Some have to phone home—to report in, to get rides, to ask for permission to go somewhere else. Friends meet friends to make plans. The dance may be over, but the night is not.

Sec. Dutcher, Advisor Myers, Pres. Brastrup, and V. Pres. Dana, discuss plans for the initiation of the new members.

Members of National Honor Society must be in the upper 15 per cent of their class and have a "B" average. They are chosen for outstanding character, leadership, scholarship, and service traits. The faculty and members nominate students and about twenty are initiated during the year. The first group to be chosen is juniors. They remain in the nation wide organization through their senior year.

F.B.L.A. members are senior girls in transcription class.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Vera Bruegger, the girls hold a spelling marathon and a Valentine Tea each year. The tea is for junior shorthand students. This year, the girls put on a special style show at the tea; Phyllis Svec was narrator for the show. The fashions were inspired by the seasons of the year.

German Club

German Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Jeanette Clark, furthers interest in German culture.

In a lecture to the club, Ilona Grill, AFS Student, described life and school activities in an average Austrian town.

To raise money for the club, students had three bake sales and used the proceeds to buy sweat-shirts. The club also had its annual banquet at the end of the year.

Kinetic's biggest project this year was the AFS Party in November. To make the dance unique, the "Walkers" band came from Miles City, and the twist was initiated at BHS. Door prizes, root beer, and the presence of West High students helped make the dance a huge success. Kinetic plans to make it an annual affair.

Kinetic also sponsored a pep assembly and an aftergame dance, and helped the wrestlers by sponsoring tournaments and making the schedules for the team.

The club honored the sophomores with a picnic in September, and the alumnae with a tea at the YWCA.

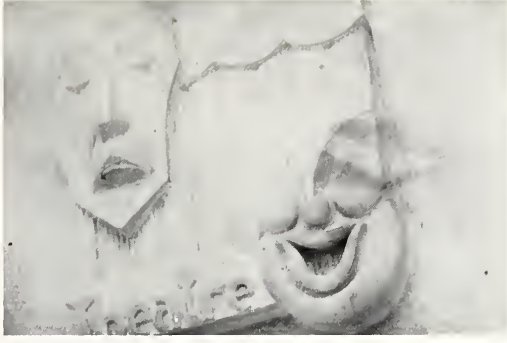

The committees for the AFS Party were headed by Jackie Mowery, chairman, Karen Glantz, publicity, Pat Clark, refreshments, and Ruthie Jacobsen, decorations.

WHAT IS YOUR AWARENESS QUOTIENT?

How many of the pictures of this page do you recognize? There are many such scenes around school—so familiar we never notice them. The sports insignia above the doors to the gym, drama masks above the auditorium doors, the old bridge crossing the creek, murals, the incinerator—these are all part of our school.

Next time you walk down the hall, look around. What you see today will be your memories tomorrow. The annual staff has tried to help you cultivate an awareness of your surroundings. This is just a start. You take it from here.

HEAD THE KYOTE STAFF

by Nancy Gilbert

Every two weeks the Kyote paper is issued to the students at BHS, who frequently take it for granted, not realizing how much work goes into it.

On Monday and Tuesday the first year students take tests, the billing is done, or typewriters are cleaned. On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday everyone is busy getting information and writing stories.

The following Monday the stories must be turned in to the editors and advisor for copyreading. The stories are taken to the Gazette on Tuesday and are returned to the class Wednesday in the form of galleys. (Galleys are the stories printed exactly as they would appear in the Kyote.) The whole class helps proofread, so mistakes can be corrected before the paper is run.

Then the editors must decide which articles to use and arrange them on the pages. Thursday the galleys are returned to the printer and Friday morning the Kyotes are delivered to the school. The circulation staff counts out the papers and delivers them to the rooms.

Everybody on the staff is required to copyread the finished paper to find any mistakes in the paper you read.

Dicitur: Scientia ipsa est Potestas

Junior Classical League is composed of first and second year Latin students. Their meetings are on alternating Fridays during class periods.

The purpose of the club is to encourage an interest in the civilization, language, literature, and art of ancient Greece and Rome.

Each spring the second year students have a banquet. They come in typical Roman dress and are served the traditional eight course dinner by the first year students.

Ann Brosz and Miss Colosky add finishing touches to Latin Club bulletin board.

The Fads and Fancies of Senior High

This year BHS had its share of fads—the "Twist," "Continental" and the "Hully-gully" made BHSers' feet dance once again.

There were fads in fashion, too, as boys became gentlemen in gaudy vests and girls returned to bobby sox and short skirts.

Boys' fad was vests. All girls had a chain.

Lasting Memories of BHS

Originally the KYOTE ANNUAL was a scrap-book of the events and activities of the senior class. Today, it is a part of the school, preserving lasting memories of school days at BHS.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Marvin Miller, this year's annual, using the theme of Murals, was produced by a staff of seventeen students who began work the second semester of last year. After a class in journalism, staff positions were appointed and actual work began.

The staff is divided into two parts: the business staff and the production staff. The business staff is responsible for heading the sales drives and selling advertising to finance the book. The production staff is responsible for laying out pages, writing copy and having pictures taken. 'Deadline' becomes a familiar word as the book takes shape.

Students interested in working on the next annual must apply before the second semester of the 1962-3 school year.

Broncs Take Sheridan, 27-6; Drop Kalispell, 13-7

Jim Shaver led the Broncs to a 27-6 victory over Sheridan in the first Bronc football game of 1961. Billings' defense stopped two Sheridan scoring threats in the first half. Then the Broncs roared back with 27 points in the second half.

With a tremendous team effort, the Broncs stopped Kalispell, 13-7, in the Broncs' second start. Fullback Robertson and halfback Shaver led the attack with one touchdown apiece, Robertson's putting the Broncs ahead. The Broncs also had a field day defensively.

The Broncs, aided by Luther Garris and Rick Hutton, defeated Missoula, 6-0. Garris' 94-yard from scrimmage in the opening seconds of the second quarter was the only score in the game. Neither team was able to penetrate the other's defense continually. Hutton was the Broncs' leading ground gainer and also made a good portion of the tackles.

In the first Montana intra-city football game between two public schools, the Broncs defeated West High 25-0. Operating out of a double wing, fullback Brickley hooked up with Hutton and Shaver to form a devastating passing attack along with their fine running game.

Broncs Trounce Cody; Lose to Butte

After a scoreless first half, the Broncs rallied for 20 points to beat Cody, 20-0. Hutton scored the first two touchdowns and Shaver added the third. Hutton and Stu Pirrie were outstanding on defense. Hutton intercepted two Cody passes which led to Billings scores.

Butte struck quickly in the first half and moved on to a 19-7 victory over the Broncs. After amassing 19 points in the first half, Butte let up slightly and the Broncs' Rick Hutton scored in the fourth quarter. The top defensive men for Billings were Hutton and Pirrie.

Broncs Lose to Butte Central; Tie Anaconda

Butte Central capitalized on a bad pass from center for their first score and went on to defeat the Broncs, 12-7. This was the second game in which the Broncs allowed their opponents to score all their points in the first half. Billings was held scoreless until the fourth quarter, when Robertson plunged over from the one.

Anaconda came back with seven points in the last two minutes of the game to tie the Broncs, 7-7. The Broncs took the lead in the first quarter of our homecoming game when Wendte passed to Pett for the score. Hutton added the extra point.

Broncs Lose Last Two Games; Finish Fifth

Although Billings scored first, Great Falls rebounded in the next three quarters to crush the Broncs, 28-7. Billings' Hendrickson went over from the three for the Broncs' lone score. Great Falls' passing proved too much for the Broncs.

The Broncs capped their 1961 football season by losing to Helena, 15-14. Luther Garris put the Broncs ahead, 7-6, but Helena pulled ahead on a 32-yard field goal in the second quarter. Billings' last score came on a 97-yard run by Garris.

THE SEASON-REVIEW AND PREVIEW

By Fred Murray

Led by a few of the Old Guard and herds of inexperienced players, the Broncs finished fifth in the 1961 season.

Shaver, Hutton, and Robertson got into the scoring column most frequently. Unofficial statistics show Shaver with a total of 479 yards gained rushing. Garris is next with 262 yards. Shaver and Garris are also 1-2 in average yards gained rushing.

Garris was the Broncs' most electrifying runner, reeling off two runs of over 90 yards each.

Off the left tackle, all the starting backs averaged better than 5.9 yards per play. But only Shaver and Hutton did very well on plays around the left end. In the air, Wendte completed 8 of 21 passes for 112 yards. Brickley, operating out of a shotgun, completed 5 of 5 passes for 62 yards and one touchdown. Punting Bruce Dailey averaged 34.3 yards.

Defensively, Trott and Dempsey made the most tackles. Hutton led in interceptions and stuck to his man well. Pirrie seemed to be in the right place at almost always the right time.

The predictions for next season? If Brickley can play, we should be in pretty good shape. The inner line may present a problem. Chatwood, who did well in his brief appearances, and Hamontree will probably be starters. Everson, one of our best pass catchers, should get the call at one end. Hutton, Garris, and Doug Green will make up one of the speediest backfields around.

Sure, there are a lot of "ifs," but every team has them—even defending champions, Butte.

Colts Finish Season With 6-1 Record

Stubborn Colt tries to shake two tacklers.

The Billings Senior High Colts, under the leadership of Mr. Zupan, had another fine season. The Colts won 6 games and lost only 1. The loss was to West High's Cubs, 28-13, in the last game of the season.

The second night saw Butte matched against the Broncs and Great Falls against West. The Bulldogs stopped the Broncs 44-29 and the Bisons beat West 57-41 to take the championship.

BHS Drops West Twice in Season's Play

Broncs: Egge, Konsen, Dailey, Kraft, Green, Brickly, Berg, Coatsworth, Schnad, Dobbins, Day, Nelson, Hardy.

The Broncs scored their first victory against Sheridan 48-46 in an overtime. Dick Brickley and Bruce Dailey paced the Broncs against their Wyoming rivals as Gary Day and Paul Nelson took the rebound honors.

Sheridan tied up the game in the fourth quarter and were outscored by the Broncs in the overtime as Dailey scored the winning basket.

Playing a good defensive game, the Broncs held Cody down to 30 points. Brickley and Nelson led the Broncs to the 38-30 victory. The Broncs' man to man defense worked well against the Wyoming squad.

Coaches: Nash and Lazetich
Managers: Neill and Brew

The Broncs, playing a good defensive game, lost to the taller Great Falls Bisons, 56-49. Brickley and Nelson teamed up on the scoring and rebounding for the Broncs. Brickley scored 13 points and Nelson scored 9 points while bringing down a lot of rebounds. The next night the Broncs lost to the Helena Bengals 46-44. The Broncs, lacking a scoring punch, hit a low per cent of their shots and did poorly on their free throws. Again Brickley was top scorer for the Broncs with 17 points. Dobbins followed with 9 points.

The Powell Panthers surprised the Broncs with a 44-40 win in the Wyoming City. The Broncs led at the end of the third period 37-30 and then only scored 3 points while Powell acquired 14 to assure the win.

Day hooks for two against Braves.

The Broncs scored a slim 53-52 win over Lovell in the first home game of the 61-62 season. Dick Brickley and Gary Day led the Bronc scorers with 10 and 8 points respectively. Day also was the top rebounder for the game. The Broncs were ragged on defense but played a good early season offensive game.

Broncs Down Court

The Anaconda Copperheads downed the Broncs 57-52. Brickly was the outstanding player on the court as he scored 18 points and was the top defensive man.

The Broncs fell to a stronger Butte Bulldog team 60-46. Berg and Brickley were the top scorers with 15 and 12 points respectively.

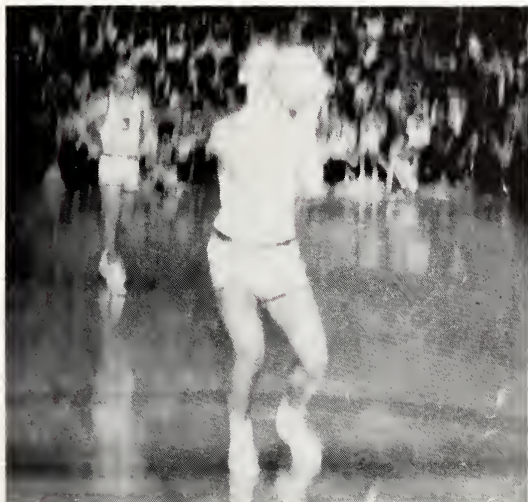

Under the leadership of Cardwell Berg, the Broncs scored a 54-42 victory over the Kalispell Braves. Gary Day accounted for most of the Broncs' rebounds.

The league-leading Spartans of Missoula had a hard time in beating the Broncs 64-60. Brickly and Berg scored 34 points between them to bring the Broncs to keep the game close.

An inspired Bronc team downed the cross town rivals 53-46 in the Shrine Auditorium. Brickly led the Broncs in their victory with 14 points. Gary Day did an excellent defensive job in holding West's Scheel to low figures.

The Butte Central Maroons controlled the courts as they rolled over the Broncs by an easy 71-47 score. Daily and Brickly were the only Broncs to hit double figures.

The Broncs scored 53 points in the second half to score a 63-45 win over the Bengals in the Capital City. Brickly hit 18 points and Berg 15 in the Broncs' second half victory.

Bruce Dailey made 24 points, 18 on field goals to pace the Broncs to a mere 56-54 victory over the Butte Bulldogs. Bruce also did well in the rebounding column as well as playing a good defensive game.

The Broncs lost to the Kalispell Braves 56-54. Kalispell had control of the game. Berg scored 17 points for the losers.

The Broncs played a weak defensive game as they were beaten by the Missoula Spartans 76-44. Brickley scored 22 points for the Broncs.

The Broncs came back in the second half to score an important 58-55 victory over the Bears. Brickley led the Bronc scoring with 21 points while Berg scored 16.

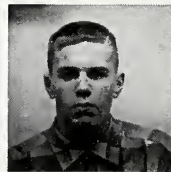

The Broncs lost their final game of the year to Butte Central 64-50. The Broncs started second string in the last game.

The Season — Review and Previews

by Kyote Sports Staff

Sophomore Gary Day, the Broncs' center, took the rebounding. Day's most outstanding game was against Missoula. The opposing Center Mike Lewis, who is 6'5½", bowed to Gary in the rebounding honors.

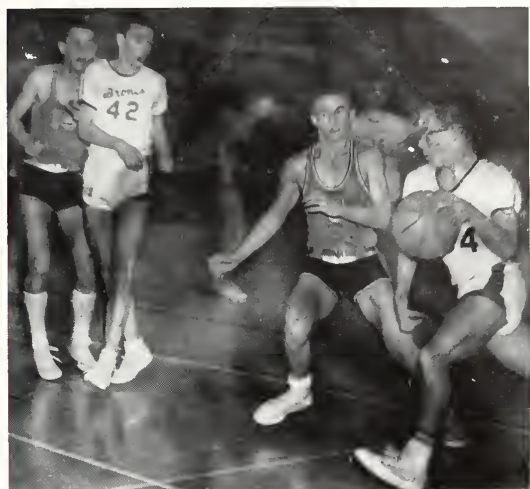

I have chosen Cardwell Berg as the Broncs' top defensive man. Cardwell was given the fastest and toughest guard in most of the Broncs' games and held his man down to a few points. Carwell did an excellent job against Hoyt DeMers, an all-state guard from Missoula.

The Broncs' outstanding scorer for the 61-62 season was Dick Brickley. Dick was high scorer for the Broncs in 9 of the conference games. He scored a conference total of 213 points, which is a game average of 13 points. In both games with West High, Dick was high scorer, with 14 and 22 points. He scored most.

My pick of the two players to watch next year are Burce Dailey and Gary Coatsworth. Bruce Dailey had the highest single game total for the Broncs with 24 against Butte. Bruce also was sharp on defense. Gary was the second best rebounder for the Broncs and also added a lot of points to the Bronc scoring column.

Homecoming is a big and exciting event in the life of every school, and, true to tradition, BHS celebrated B-Day on Saturday, October 28. The theme this year was "BHS Goes International."

The activities began with a pep assembly announcing the king and queen candidates.

This year we had a unique B-Day. First of all the parade was cancelled because of the bad weather. Next came the cold, stormy game with Anaconda.

The highlight of the snowy B-Day activities came with the traditional homecoming dance, and the crowning of the royalty, Ann Hutton and Charlie Trott.

Students agree that halftimes are something to look forward to. This year, the majorettes represented everything from flappers to Dutch girls, can-can dancers to baby dolls, Santa's elves to Indians.

G.A.A. Emphasizes Good Sportsmanship

"One, two, three, four," GAA girls do exercises.

Promoting interest in athletics and encouraging good sportsmanship is the purpose of this fast moving, all-girls club.

Throughout the year, G.A.A. members participated in a play day with other G.A.A. members from out of town as well as from West High. It also had individual and team tournaments in numerous sports. This naturally created a lot of enthusiasm with the members.

Miss Phyllis Miller, G.A.A.'s sponsor, supervises them throughout their activities.

Eight Spirited Girls Lead BHS Cheers

... "Let's win!" say the cheerleaders as they finish a cheer during a pep assembly.

Cheerleaders, under the sponsorship of Miss. Phyllis Miller, stay overnight in a hotel at Great Falls, attend a dance in Butte, eat in a Sheridan restaurant, and then get home from a two-hundred mile trip to do homework.

Cheerleaders also have other problems. The 132 words in "Sound Off" have to be learned, emblems have to be sewn on sweaters, the tights must be remembered, and practice for the next day's pep assembly has to be planned.

Cheerleading does have pleasant moments. It's an honor to wear the outfits, to be a cheer queen, and it's fun to make new friends.

XL—Seated: Sec.-Treas. Schutrop, Vice Pres. Losee, Pres Hungerford, Morrison. First row: Redmond, Ladd, Korn, Griffin, Rye, McKie, Thompson, Cosman, Large, Rivera. Second row: Anderson, Jackson, Waddell, Perjessy, Wendte, Trott, Haughey, Montague, L. Kleindl, Rankin. Third row: Leitz, Pemberton, Robinson, Kirkendall, Summers, Lassen, Blewett, Wyard, D. Kleindl, Fields. Fourth row: Ryan, Wiseman, Alterowitz, Swenson, Barnes, Kirkpatrick, Fulton, Bade, Roach. Not pictured: Brastrup, Card, Collins, Hill, Lausen, Pingrey, Scowcroft, Sprague.

XL Boys Are Ambassadors of BHS Spirit

XL boys direct traffic for assemblies.

Membership in XL, boys' pep club, is limited to senior boys and is sponsored by Mr. Gus Nash.

The club helps promote school spirit by reserving a special bleacher section at the games and assemblies. The boys wear their club sweatshirts, wave spirit-raising signs, and cheer for the Broncs.

If you've tried to sneak into a game you know that another XL service is to patrol the gates to prevent illegal entry.

XL also excuses the rooms for assemblies and directs traffic during fire drills.

Members of Lettermen's Club are boys who earned letters in football, basketball, track, wrestling, or cross country.

The club meets twice a month in the stadium with their sponsor, Mr. John Kosich, the head football coach.

Nominating B-Day Queen candidates is one of the activities of the club. They provide ushers for pep assemblies and for dances, and purchase letter sweaters for all members. The club has framed pictures of outstanding athletes for the locker room in the stadium.

Letterman Doug Picard escorts Leone Lillis to her seat in B-Day assembly.

49 Boys Members of Lettermen's Club

The artist thanks the merchants advertising in this section, for without them there would be no Kyote. With their help our artist has been able to record important activities and events of our school year.

THANKS . . .

The Kyote Annual Staff of 1962 would like to thank everybody who has helped us with the production of our book.

Special thanks go to Taylor Publishing Company, to Taylor production head Ed McMeans, and to Bill Kenney, Taylor representative. We also appreciate the patience and assistance of Mr. Borberg, Mrs. Hutton, Mr. Nash, and the other faculty members.

AUTOGRAPHS

Frank;

I want to wish you the Best of Luck always. Take it easy this summer, and have alot of fun at the Prom.
